Collection Giardino
Design Carlotta Fortuna

“I have always thought of the carpet as a sacred space, a space that separates, where you sit in the center to contemplate its contents. For me, this content has always been Mother Earth in all her forms.” — Carlotta Fortuna

Carlotta Fortuna has created, over time, several collections of carpets all with a strong graphic sense and a refined aesthetic language. Her latest, Giardino, is inspired by Botticelli’s Primavera, evoking through the art of weaving an expanse of wild flowers and grasses. A meadow of natural beauty, disordered and spontaneous, where small strokes of color, like free brushstrokes on the canvas of a contemporary painter, become flower stems, leaves and petals.
