

Brera Apartments chooses Halo Edition by Mandalaki to illuminate its apartments

The Milanese Brera Apartments network has launched a new collaboration with the Mandalaki Design Studio to create the right atmosphere in one of its apartments in the centre of Milan, at 2 Via Santa Cecilia, just steps from Corso Monforte, which is famously associated with the theme of lighting.

2 October 2023 - Brera Apartments has invited Mandalaki Design Studio to interpret the spaces of one of its apartments at 2 Via Santa Cecilia in Milan, through scenes of light. The building is located in an elegant palazzo in the heart of the lighting district, just steps from Corso Monforte and Piazza San Babila. From the lounge to the living area to the bedroom, the creations designed by Mandalaki, are able to personalise any environment for a unique lighting and wellbeing experience thanks to their special luminous effect.

In recent years, Studio Mandalaki has examined the nature of lighting, research that has given life to the Halo Edition design. Through an anodized aluminium body, a high-power LED and a sophisticated optical system, Halo lamps are able to create a perfectly circular projection of different colours and hues, a precise and defined graphic to surround oneself with and that is inspired by different landscapes.

Brera Apartments, which has always put wellbeing and comfort at the centre of its hospitality philosophy, therefore thought to invite Mandalaki to personalise one of the apartment most requested and preferred by their international clientele, thanks to its strategic position just steps from Piazza San Babila.

A “luminous collaboration” that tourists and families visiting Milan will enjoy first of all.
